Godrej Interio Diva

range of premium seating is ergonomically and flawlessly designed on the principles of human engineering, to maximise efficiency through comfort in a demanding work environment. The chairs have a characteristic flexi-back that flexes naturally as you recline, without any adjustment mechanism, for maximum comfort and relief. Even when upright, it lends constant and proper support to your back.

PCH-7044T

Along with the flexi-back, the armrests too are scientifically designed... and available in three different designs. The adjustable T-type armrest can be set to the most comfortable and suitable height for you, personally. Shifting the weight of your arms away from your shoulders, alleviating stress and fatigue. Both these unique features are ideal for those who work long, erratic hours at their desks or computers as they maintain correct posture and keep the back free from injury.
